no monthly premiums for pre-65 medical coverage

For pre-65 participants enrolled in the Medical PPO, HDHP or HDHP Basic plans

According to our records, you and/or your pre-65 dependent(s) are currently enrolled in either the Chevron Medical PPO, the Chevron High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP) or the Chevron High Deductible Health Plan Basic (HDHP Basic). Chevron will temporarily suspend the monthly premium for pre-65 participants enrolled in these plans. This means that the cost for medical coverage under these plans will be $0 during this premium holiday period.

If you are enrolled in a Chevron medical plan, you and Chevron share the monthly cost of coverage – the premium – for your plans. Our premium cost is determined, in part, by health claim expenses incurred by the plans in the previous year. For the Medical PPO, HDHP and HDHP Basic, we've determined that expenses have been better than projected, resulting in a surplus of funding at this time. For this reason, Chevron is temporarily suspending monthly premiums as we bring these plans' funding back into balance.

do I need to do anything?

The premium holiday is automatic, so there's nothing you need to do.

- The cost for medical coverage under these plans will be $0 for AutoPay deductions and mailed billing invoices issued starting in April 2021 (for May 2021 coverage).
- Normal premiums for these plans will generally resume with AutoPay deductions and mailed billing invoices issued starting in September 2021 (for October 2021 coverage).
- If you are only enrolled in this Chevron pre-65 medical coverage, know that AutoPay deductions will not be taken from your account or an invoice will not be mailed to you during the premium holiday period.
