First Quarter 2009

Benefits Corner by Al Horan

It's hard to believe that we are starting the year 2009.

In October, Chevron held open enrollment for their Medical and Dental Plans for 2009. (Please note this Dental only applies to legacy Chevron retirees.) From my perspective and based on discussions with Chevron it appears the enrollment went well.

Approximately 6,900 eligible retirees elected to change their coverage for 2009. 1,100 changes were made over the web and 5,800 were made by phone. All confirmations of coverage were mailed by November 3.

As I'm sure you can appreciate, 2009 will usher in new deductibles and plan changes. Also income tax season is just Chevron has announced the launching of its Alumni Community Website (<http://alumni.chevron.com>). This site provides online networking capabilities to former Chevron employees and retirees - so you can stay in touch both personally and professionally plus keep abreast of company news and special events. In addition, the site links you to information about regular career opportunities and contract assignments at Chevron.

Interested former Chevron technical professionals may use the Alumni site to sign up for Chevron's Bridges program. Bridges enables you to express your interest in returning to work with Chevron on a contract basis for specific projects in the technical disciplines supported by Upstream, Global Gas and the Energy Technology Company.

Opportunities include contract assignments as technical specialists, partner representatives, guest speakers, recruiters, mentors, peer reviewers and advisors to focus areas.

Registering for Chevron's Alumni Community gives you access to the Alumni Website and the option to apply for Bridges.

President's Letter

Your Association is looking forward to a great and progressive 2009

Here's hoping you and your families had a joyous holiday season with good health, food, weather and the gifts you actually wanted. Your Association is looking forward to a great 2009 and we are hopeful it becomes a year of prosperity and personal joy for each and every one of you. After reviewing my IRA, and looking at what remains of my Galveston beach house, I am certainly ready for a new year.

The CRA officers continue to be a very busy group. As most of you know by now, effective April 1 we will have our very own Dental Insurance Plan. I personally want to thank our Benefits Committee Chairman, Al Horan, and his committee members; the Area Vice Presidents; and each and every Chapter President for their many hours of hard labor in completing all the preparatory work necessary to make this meaningful benefit available to you.

Already we are experiencing sustained growth in our paid membership as more retirees have joined a CRA Chapter so as to become eligible for the Dental Plan.

But our important work for the Association members is never-ending. Right now your CRA Officers, Committee Chairs and Area VPs are busy getting organized for our January 24 MidYear meeting in San Francisco, where we will be preparing all the details for our Annual Meeting in Las Vegas to be held May 17 through 20.

Here's another vital issue of concern. We are continuing to wait for a response from Chevron Management regarding our request for their consideration in granting a pension supplement to help many of our less fortunate fellow retirees deal with the ever increasing cost of living.

Moreover, this is definitely a significant year of change with a new President of these United States, falling oil prices, increasing health care costs and continued challenging military activities in many parts of the world. We, as an organization, however, can only address those things we can impact.

My pledge to you in these difficult times is that every CRA officer, Committee member and Chapter officer will continue to do everything in our power to make life better for our retirees.

Warmest regards,

Charlie Rhoads

To be considered for future contract opportunities, Chevron invites you to visit the Alumni Website and sign up through the Bridges program link. Should a suitable opportunity arise, you will be contacted by a project manager or hiring manager. At the time you are selected for a specific assignment, you will be contracted through Beeline (the program's designated third-party employment agency). Beeline handles all the administrative aspects of contracting for you.

If you have questions or need more information about Bridges, contact the Bridges program manager at brprmgr@chevron.com.

Communications is Singing River's centerpiece (Third in a series on CRA Chapters)

"Our biggest asset at the Singing River Chapter is the ability to communicate in many different ways with our retiree members," says President Dennis Dauphin.

For example, last February the chapter, based in Pascagoula, Mississippi, established a new electronic mail address which has upgraded its communication options appreciably. Dauphin points out that:

- "Since then our electronic mail roster has grown from 38 to 180 users.
- "The introduction of an electronic 'group ID' enables me to send messages to all those users simultaneously by merely hitting a single computer key.
- "Our e-mail roster has proven helpful in the placement of retirees interested in local jobs offered by Swift Technical.
- "By being in the Internet loop, our members have convenient computer access to various Chevron-sponsored and retiree-oriented websites.
- "And the easy accessibility of our e-mail roster has been an important supplement to the chapter's recently invigorated hard-copy bi-monthly newsletter."

Dauphin is editor of the Singing River Newsletter, which varies in size from 4 to 10 pages. It publishes a wide swath of information and news. Copy ranges from stories and items about chapter luncheons, retiree deaths, illnesses, annual dues and other local happenings to providing highlights of the meetings between the CRA's national officers and Chevron Department Heads in San Ramon, California.

Communication also is the centerpiece of the chapter's bi-monthly luncheon meetings, held the 2nd Wednesday of odd-numbered months at LaFont Inn in Pascagoula (pop. 15,000). Meetings begin with a presentation by a guest speaker and a brief business agenda. Those are followed by an "open floor" discussion of any issues and concerns of retirees. Many attendees stay afterwards to "catch up", share stories and hear the latest news. All luncheon first-timers receive a courtesy meal.

Singing River is able to do a better job of staying updated on potential new members because of its rapport with the Pascagoula Refinery, located near Bayou Casotte on the edge of the Gulf of Mexico. Upon receiving the refinery's list of new retirees, the chapter promptly mails each prospective member a form letter that gives detailed information on the values and advantages of belonging to both Chevron Retirees Association and the local chapter.

By the way, Singing River recently increased its paid membership from 240 to 300 members. Annual dues are $3 per retiree or $6 with spouse.

Dauphin says, "The refinery supports our chapter in many other ways. Some are:

Surviving the power of Hurricane Ike

Hurricane Ike, which wreaked havoc in mid-September in scores of Texas cities and towns, has been ranked as the seventh most expensive catastrophe in U.S. history. A total of $8.1 billion in insured damage was caused by Ike, according to the Insurance Information Institute in New York.

Among those incurring damage was the home of Nedra Nokes, the surviving spouse of Robert Nokes whose Texaco career spanned 33 years. A petroleum engineer, he worked in Marketing where he specialized in heavy lubricants.

Mrs. Nokes lives in Willis, Texas (pop. 8,300) about 45 miles north of Houston. She reported the hurricane hit Willis about 4 a.m. on a Saturday morning and the 120-mile per hour winds quickly knocked out the local utilities.

She recounted, "We all hunkered down until the rains stopped. Then I ventured out into my yard only to discover that too many limbs were down. And my neighbor's fence was in pieces throughout my yard. Having just had a total hip replacement, I knew I had no sensible reason to be wandering among the debris."

Although she and her neighbors still remained without electricity on day four, some good fortune occurred when her door bell rang. She explained, "A gentleman from the neighborhood told me he was 'sent' to clean up my debris-filled yard. With no further comment, he began to bag, cut and clean up my yard. He left without another word."

However, it wasn't until mid-November that her roof was replaced. "It took this long to get a new roof as every house had some sort of damage. Getting shingles delivered was the hardest thing as the need was so great."

Mrs. Nokes also related her firefighter son's narrow hurricane escape from injury in nearby Conroe. On the phone he told me that, "During the height of the storm, the crew was in the pumper truck (which weighs several tons) when the powerful winds picked it up and then gently set it back down on the highway. This is nothing a mother wants to hear."

As a CRA member, she added, "My local chapter is a Texaco Retirees Club that meets four times a year in Houston. My husband was a member and I sometimes go to visit."

Alberta award to Hank Heerema

Hank Heerema, a member of Calgary's Canadian Prairie Chapter, recently received the Alberta Government Minister's Senior Services Award at a ceremony held at Government House in Edmonton.

He was honored for 15 years served in various volunteer capacities at the Kerby Centre in downtown Calgary. The three-story Kerby complex is a large senior center whose mission statement is "To assist older people to live as well as possible for as long as possible as residents in the community."

For the last 13 years, Heerema has been the volunteer IT manager at Kerby Centre with total responsibility for servers (3), workstations (70), printers and the network. He has played the major role in totally reorganizing and bringing all these facilities up to date and continues to serve on Kerby's board of directors .

"I am at Kerby five days a week where I also teach seminars in digital photography," says Heerema. Seminars are taught in the computer classroom he built.

At Chevron Resources in Calgary he was a geophysicist in Exploration, where his significant contribution was the discovery of the West Pembina Nisku reefs. That helped lead to West Pembina becoming a major oil field.

Staying active at 80 and older

Warren Moses sits in the seat of his ultra-lite single propeller aircraft called a Buckeye Dream Machine.

Warren Moses likes to fly into the wild blue yonder. Instead of doing so in an airplane, he pilots an ultra-lite, single propeller craft called a Buckeye Dream Machine. In essence that's a huge curved parachute powered by a two-cylinder Rotax engine. He goes airborne while belted in a seat that looks like a "three-wheel go-kart."

Moses says, "My biggest enjoyment is the view. On a real calm day at 1,500 to 2,000 feet I get the sensation of sitting still while the Earth is moving. And I can see 20-30 miles in any direction. Top speed of my Dream Machine is 30 miles per hour and I have flown as high as 5,000 feet. I have been doing this 17 years."

Until recently, he spent 10 years as an ultra-lite flight instructor at Harrison County Sport Aviation in Crandall, Indiana. But this 80-year-old resident of Corydon, Indiana, jokes, "When I'm looking for speed and a real adventure I still ride a motorcycle."

Concluding a 38-year Chevron career, Moses retired in 1985 in Houston "as the scheduler for all the pipelines for Chevron Eastern USA. Earlier I was the scheduler for the clean products ocean ship and barge shipments out of the Pascagoula Refinery." He's a member of the CRA's Louisville Chapter.

Ray Burrows, who has won many organized shooting competitions, is still a "top gun" at age 81. He proved it with his single barrel shotgun at the recent 95th annual California State Trap Shooting Championships held at Kingsburg Gun Club near Fresno.

In three rounds of the State 16-Yard Single Class Veteran's event - including two tie-breaking shoot-offs - he missed only one of 275 thrown targets. That gave him the runnerup Veteran's Championship Award. Burrows, who owns a dozen guns, has been competing in organized shooting events in California and Nevada since the mid-1950s. He belongs to the National Rifle Association and similar organizations.

A resident of Torrance, he retired from Chevron in 1986 as a district foreman at El Segundo Refinery where he worked 40 years. He is a member of the CRA's South Bay Chapter and a former area vice president for Southern California.

Another marksman, according to family members, is Texaco retiree Robert Strange, Sr. of Buna, Texas. For example, as an experienced deer hunter he brought down his latest quarry in November. He also drives a tractor and works on the family farm.

Strange, Sr. does all that as the "oldest living surviving retiree" of the Texaco Pt. Arthur Refinery. He's age 99, retiring in 1974 as a Stillman, thereby completing 41 years of service. Other refinery family workers included Strange, Sr.'s five sons.

"My aunt, Helen Powell, retired from Texaco before the Chevron merger and I worked 15 years for Texaco in Marketing up to the merger. Now I work for Shell," says Debbie Strange, the wife of Robert Strange's grandson, Brent. They also reside in Buna.

How Benefits reacts to "calls for help"

From time to time the CRA's Benefits Committee receives a "call for help" from Association members. Their distress calls usually relate to varied "coverage" problems they are experiencing with the Company, its service center and/or health/medical organizations.

Following in capsule form is a case history the Benefits Committee recently helped resolve:

A concerned surviving spouse of a retiree contacted Benefits Chairman Al Horan. She asked him to look into why she had not received her widow's pension.

After contacting his sources at Chevron, Horan got back to the surviving spouse and asked her to be patient. He explained the Company had to retrieve the necessary records from offsite storage so it could independently verify and confirm the survivor's benefit.

The research took about three weeks. But the good news is CRA Benefits was able to assist in securing her widow's pension.

around the corner. You may wish to consider organizing your 2008 records, including your medical expenses and medical premiums paid during 2008 (Chevron premiums, Medicare premiums, etc.).

As you know, CRA's Dental Program will become effective April 1. Leading up to the effective date we've been quite busy behind the scenes reviewing MetLife dental literature, forms, etc. that will be used by MetLife to communicate the full details of CRA's Program.

In late January, MetLife will be mailing all dues-paying CRA members enrollment kits. The kits will provide explanatory information about the Dental Program. You will be able to contact MetLife's Call Center for clarification about Plan provisions and terms. The Call Center's contact information will be included in the enrollment package.

However, in the interim I would encourage you to visit MetLife's website, www.metlife.com/mybenefits and HDH's website, www.cradental.com. REMEMBER - PLEASE DO NOT contact Chevron's Service Center about CRA's Dental Program since they will not be able to answer questions about CRA's Program. Lastly, I can very well appreciate that we are all having anxiety about the state of our economy. Retirees who are receiving monthly pensions are feeling the affect of rising costs while their pensions remain static.

Thanks to your responses for personalized data to demonstrate the effects of inflation on your fixed pensions, we were able to clearly demonstrate to Chevron your dire need for a pension supplementation increase. While we are still waiting for a response from Chevron, I'm encouraged that they are carefully reviewing our data.

Frazier is multiple volunteer worker

Leon Frazier is among countless CRA members who constantly volunteer their time, dedication and skills to assist and serve other members of their communities.

Frazier is a quadruple threat as a fireman, medical worker, Meals on Wheels driver and Knights of Columbus worker. Most of his volunteerism takes place at The Pecan Plantation, a gated community of 5,000 other residents in Granbury, Texas.

He's on 24-hour call as a volunteer in the Plantation Fire Department, which has three pumper tankers and three brush trucks. He says, "I drive the big trucks, operate the pumps and do maintenance work. This year we've responded to 200 calls, which included fighting a 700-acre grass fire. We also provide mutual assistance to four surrounding counties." In 2006, he was honored as Pecan Plantation's "Fireman of the Year."

Leon Frazier and wife, Rosella, stand next to one of the bright red engines that he drives as a volunteer in the Pecan Plantation Fire Department.

Frazier also is on 24-hour call for Pecan's Emergency Medical Services. It is a role which involves driving the site's ambulances. He'll soon be more involved in medical emergencies because he is one test from qualifying as an EMT (Emergency Medical Technician).

Additionally, he's a volunteer for Knights of Columbus, which through various fund-raising projects last year contributed $25,000 to multiple charities in the City of Granbury. Frazier says, "I would not be able to do all this volunteerism without the support of my wife, Rosella."

His Company career spanned 28 years with Skelly, Getty, Texaco before retiring in 1990. He served as a Texaco representative of natural gas processing plants it owned in Utah or held joint interest onshore and offshore in Louisiana. Frazier is a Tulsa Skelly/Getty/Texaco Chapter member.

Singing River Continued from page 3

- "It underwrites the cost of printing and mailing the newsletter to all 840 retirees living in the area.
- "It underwrites the cost of the chapter's annual year-end dinner for paid members, where the Refinery General Manager is our guest speaker.
- "Pascagoula invites our members to participate in refinery blood drives, the annual 'Family Fun Day' picnic and scramble golf tournament, the American Heart Association Heartwalk and other activities. It also provides flu vaccines for us at no cost.
- "Chapter members Trudi Dixon, Jerry Hoag, Paul Lebatard, Joanna Wells, Gene Patterson and Richard Wilson have served on the refinery's United Way campaign team."

Dauphin is about to begin his third one-year term as president. He's assisted by Gene Patterson, vice president; and Garland Dunnam, secretary/treasurer.

Dauphin also does double-duty as the CRA's new Gulf Coast Area Vice President. His Gulf/Chevron career spanned 32 years before retiring in 1999 as the Purchasing administrative supervisor in the Pascagoula PM&M office.

Bouldins honored for Ulster Project

A recent New Orleans Project Gala was dedicated to Texaco retiree Bill Bouldin and wife, Winkie, who were honored as the 1991 founders of that program. Bouldin formerly served the "local" project as president and his wife as program director.

Bouldin explains, "That is a real community building thing which enables Catholic and Protestant teenagers from Northern Ireland to spend each July with American teens and their families throughout our area."

The project's goal has been to "help break down the walls of intolerance and mistrust that exist in Northern Ireland." To accomplish that, the all-volunteer organization each year gives two visiting groups of teens a chance to get acquainted in a stress-free environment. The visit includes a schedule of service projects, recreation activities, shopping, sleepovers and worship services.

Concluding a 40-year legacy career, he retired in New Orleans in 1989 as planning manager for Texaco USA Exploration/Production East. He is an active member of the CRA's Texaco Retirees of New Orleans and Greater New Orleans chapters.

Busy twosome for Shriners

Altruistic work for The Shriners organization ranks high in the activities of Nick Nichols of Deltona, Florida, and Hardy Murphy of Phoenix, Arizona.

Nichols' role is transporting youngsters and their mothers at least once a month to Tampa's Shriners Hospital for Children. All trips involve surgery, usually of an out-patient nature.

Nichols explains, "A single roundtrip in the Shriners van can require about 400 miles. I get up early and drive from Deltona to my pickup point, which may be in Orlando, Daytona Beach, Deland, Port Orange or New Smyrna - all in Volusia County. At the pickup site, I load the wheelchair and passengers into the van and continue to the hospital. I have made about 30 such roundtrips."

He once mentioned to Betty Powell, wife of George, the South Atlantic Seaboard Area vice president, that sometimes the van gets cold. He says, "She went right to work and made five Afghan blankets for the children."

Nichols has been a Shriners member since 1968. He also belongs to five CRA chapters: Big Sun, where he was president/treasurer six years, Jacksonville, Central Florida CVX, Unaffiliated and ChevronTexaco/Gulf Atlanta. Culminating a 33-year Chevron career, he retired in 1992 in Atlanta as a Retail Electronic Funds Transfer specialist.

Murphy is highly touted in Metropolitan Phoenix for his volunteerism in promoting large fund-raising events for the El Zaribah Shriners. Among events are the Shrine Circus Weekend, Shrine Mother's Day, Shrine Easter Brunch, Shrine Barbecue, Shrine Cornfest and Shrine Burn Week. Biggest moneymaker is the circus with a three-day attendance of about 7,000.

"The charitable funds raised are used to support the medical needs of children up to age 18, at no cost to their parents," says Murphy. Children who require special medical needs and a parent are flown for treatment to Shrine Hospitals in Los Angeles or Salt Lake City or to Shrine Burn Centers in Galveston or Cincinnati."

Murphy, past president of the "El Dulab" unit El Zaribah Shrine, adds, "I've been doing this 11 years, ever since I retired from Texaco. What I do for the Shriners is pretty much a fulltime job." He retired in 1998 in Phoenix as a Texaco Marketing representative, ending 33 years of service. He is a member of the CRA's Phoenix Chapter.

 Due to space constraints, the remainder of the July 2008 – September 2008 In Memoriam will appear in the next issue of Encore. Alternatively, the web edition of the Quarter 1 2009 Encore contains the entire list of names.

Chevron Retirees Association

The Chevron Retirees Association is not a subsidiary of the Chevron Corporation but an independent organization of retired employees of Chevron or its predecessor companies.
